Introduction

In 2014 Fulbright Alumni Association of Serbia celebrates the 50th anniversary of Fulbright program in Serbia and former Yugoslavia. Ever since 1964, when Arkansas senator (1945 – 1974 in office) and President of International Relations Committee - James William Fulbright (1905 - 1995), initiated Fulbright program of international cooperation in the field of education, program participants and scholarships grantees have a reason to be proud. Today this program is present in over 155 countries, and over 8.000 scholarships are awarded each year. The fact that 53 former Fulbright scholarship grantees are Nobel Prize winners and 79 former Fulbright scholarship grantees are Pulitzer Prize winners, confirms the reputation of this program. In former Yugoslavia, which Serbia was a part of, from 1964 - 2014, over 3.000 scholarships were awarded.

In recent years, Fulbright Alumni Association of Serbia includes other scholarship programs supported by the United States Government, such as: Ron Brown established in 1994 (in 1996 this program was named after the U.S.A. Commerce secretary), Hubert H. Humphrey, which was established in 1978 and named after the senator and U.S.A. Vice-president and GDP program (The Junior Faculty Development Program) established in 1994. Despite certain differences between these programs, their common goal is development of the international cooperation in fields of education, ideas and experience exchange, spreading values of human rights, democracy, dialog and tolerance. Or as the respected senator James William Fulbright said: "Educational exchange can turn nations into people, contributing as no other form of communication can to the humanizing of international relations."

Members and participants in these programs enjoy various benefits. During their study visits, academic specializations and research studies in the U.S.A., academic, cultural and economic diplomacy connects U.S.A. with participants and their home countries. This is an investment in education and science as well. The advantage of learning from more developed countries is, among else, the confirmation that education is the most valuable investment. In 2013, Government of the Republic of Serbia decided to support the Fulbright program by giving certain amount of money to it. This is especially important because gained knowledge and experience acquired in the U.S.A. is implemented in scholarship users' home countries. These programs are not unilateral but bilateral in nature. Large number of Serbian institutions (universities, faculties, institutes, hospitals and companies) have also hosted over 700 scholarship grantees coming from the U.S.A. to Serbia.

Some of the users of the Fulbright, as well as the other aforementioned programs, are numerous distinguished people in Serbia, such as members of the Serbian Academy of Sciences and Arts (Vojin Sulovic, Tibor Varadi, Vojislav Stanovcic); Rectors of the University (Fuada Stankovic, Dejan Popovic, Marija Bogdanovic, Vladimir Bumbasirevic); artists (Svetlana Bojkovic, Vida Ognjenovic, Olja Ivanjicki, Slobodan Sijan, Biljana Srbljanovic); and Deans of faculties, Governors, Ministers and a number of professors and researchers.

The purpose of this updated Almanac is to gather, sort and process data on scholarship grantees. This represents a testimony of the beginnings, dynamics and development of the aforementioned programs. Available data on people, their fields of research and study and awarded scholarships serve as a contribution to better insight into education, science and culture development in Serbia.

Fulbright

The Fulbright Program supports educational exchanges that strengthen understanding and communication between the United States and over 140 countries. It is an effective and prestigious form of public diplomacy. The Program has enriched the lives of over 225,000 men and women and has brought some of the world's finest minds to U.S. campuses. It offers insight into U.S. society and values to future leaders from around the world.

More than 1,300 new Foreign Fulbright Fellows enter U.S. academic programs each year. IIE arranges academic placement for most Fulbright nominees and supervises all grantees during their stay in the United States.

Many Fulbright are young professionals who will return to responsible positions in their home countries. They often are involved in building institutions and government service when they return home.

Foreign students apply for Fulbright Fellowships through the Fulbright Commission or U.S. Embassies in their home countries.

The Fulbright Program came to our parts of the world on November 9, 1964, when the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia and the United States of America signed the Agreement on financing the educational exchange program. Until the dissolution of Yugoslavia, several thousands awards were issued under this Agreement to scholars, researchers, artists, university professors and students who facilitated the establishment of academic ties and links between Yugoslav and American universities and contributed to the improvement of the traditionally good relationships between the two countries.

On May 22, 1992 when the UN sanctions were imposed against Yugoslavia, Fulbright program was temporarily suspended. It was renewed in 2001, when the democratic changes took place in our country.

Ron Brown

The Ron Brown award program has been in existence since 1994, but in 1996 it was renamed in memory and honor of the late US Secretary of Commerce, who consistently pursued the concept of economic diplomacy. The program is funded under the auspices of the Support for Eastern European Democracy Act (SEED), through the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs of the United States Department of State. Grants have been awarded to the citizens of Serbia since 1997. Over 50 grantees from Serbia and over 10 from Montenegro (during the time of State Community Serbia and Montenegro) have already successfully competed their studies in US universities. Grants are awarded to candidates from Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Croatia, Macedonia, Montenegro, Romania, Serbia (and Kosovo), Slovenia, Estonia and Latvia. In the past there were also participants from Hungary, Poland and Slovakia. The Ron Brown educational program supports effective transition in the former communist regime countries and offers fully funded two-year degree programs at the Master's level (excluding law, which is one year, or one-year non-degree professional development programs). Eligible fields of study are:

- Business Administration (M.B.A.)
- Economics (M.A.)
- Educational Administration (M.A.)
- Environmental Policy/Management (M.A.)
- Law (LL.M.)
- Public Administration / Public Policy (M.P.A. /M.P.P.)

The program is intensive and places fellows in leading institutions that best fit their academic needs and qualifications. It goes beyond enriching the fellows academically. It provides them with the opportunity to gain practical, hands-on experience in their field of study during a three-month summer internship. This combination of education and practical experience allows fellows to make a difference at work, in Community, and in society of their home countries. Sample internship include: Cable News Network (CNN), Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), International Monetary Fund (IMF), World Bank, Congressional Research service, United Nations and the Kennan Institute. After their return from U.S., grantees from Serbia have won important positions in state, private and nongovernmental institutions and organizations, like Ministry of Privatization, Ministry of Finance and Economy, OSCE, World Bank, Belgrade human rights center, etc.

Hubert H. Humphrey

Founded in 1978 in honor of the late Senator and Vice-president, the Hubert H. Humphrey Felowship Program brings accomplished mid-level professionals from designated countries in Africa, Asia, Latin America, the Caribbean, the Middle East, Europe and Eurasia to the Unated States for a year of study and professional experience.

The program and courades a variety of U.S. and foreign partnerships worldwide. Fellowships are awarded competitively to candidates to commitment to public service in boath the public and private sectors, specifically in the fields of natural resources and environmental management, public policy analysis and administration, law and human rights, finance and banking, economic, development, agricultural development/economics, human resource management, urban and regional planning, public health policy and management, technology policy and management, educational plannig, teaching of Englishh as a foreign language, communications/journalism, drug abuse and epidemiology, education, treatment and prevention. Fellowships are limited to one academic year, preceded if appropriate by English language training. The program provides coursework combined with professional enrichment activities tailored to each Fellow's interests. Fellows are grouped at carefully selected U.S. host institutions with Humphrey Coordinators and advisers who provide academic and administrative support to each Fellow on individualized program design and implementation. Fellows attend a workshop in Washington D.C. To interact with leaders from the US federal government, multinational organizations and the private sector. Throughout the year, Fellows engage in a varity of professional activities, including site visits and workshops.

The Humphrey Program is a Fulbright Exchange activity funded by the Department of State and administered by the Institute of International Education (IIE). SInce 1978, more than 3,122 Fellows from over 120 countries have participated in the program. IIE is one of the country's leading nonprofit organizations in the field of cultural and educational exchange. IIE assists the bureau in administering the program.

JFDP

The Junior Faculty Development Program (JFDP) is a program of Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs (ECA) of the U.S. Department of State. JFDP is a non-degree, professional development program that provides promising junior university faculty with the opportunity to:

- develop new courses and implement curriculum reform at their home institutions;
- cultivate teaching skills and techniques derived from exposure to U.S. educational methods;
- · expand the information base in their fields of study, and;
- become a vehicle for on-going contact and exchange between home and host institutions.

Initiated in 1994, JFDP has expanded across Eurasia and into Southeast Europe. The program's overall mission is to foster opportunities for Eurasian and Southeastern European higher educational systems to increase access to academic resources and new educational perspectives, and to promote the development of a growing network of academics among those regions and the United States.

Through the administration of JFDP, American Councils maintains regular communications with a variety of organizations, institutions, research centers, and other private and public entities. In addition, JFDP relies on partnerships with many of these entities for the continued success of the program, its Fellows and Alumni.

The U.S. Department of State is the sole sponsor of JFDP since the program's inception in 1994. JFDP is a part of the overall mission of this U.S. governmental bureau to foster mutual understanding between the U.S. and the rest of the world.
